In order to graduate, a student must earn a total of 60 credit hours by the end of the semester in which the last course is completed. * Course specific degree requirements. We advise students who receive extra credit for enrolling in Fastrach to make a plan to complete the requirement during the following semester.. If students cannot earn the required number of Fastrach credit hours during a given semester, the penalty is the difference between the number of credit hours necessary to graduate and the total earned during that semester (i.e., 10.
