Follow Us on facebook :- immuno-logical study on the expression of tumor suppressor gene hRST1 and its clinical significance in hepatocellular carcinoma]. To evaluate the expression of tumor suppressor gene hRST1 in hepatocellular carcinoma (HCC) and to investigate the correlation between its expression and prognosis of HCC. Fifty-one HCC specimens and paired para-carcinoma liver tissues, including 30 cases of liver cirrhosis and 25 cases of chronic hepatitis (CH) were obtained from patients with HCC, treated with surgery and postoperative chemotherapy. Fifty-one paired HCC specimens were evaluated by means of RT-PCR and Western blotting, and their association with postoperative survival of the patients was analyzed. The expression of hRST1 mRNA in HCC was significantly higher than that in liver cirrhosis and CH (P 2d92ce491b
