Ramp3d player is not just another movie player, but it looks like it is, which means it has to be operated in a specific way. It has similar interfaces to ordinary players, so you can use any buttons to start, pause, play, stop, go forward/backward and so on. But if you simply type the URL to the file you want to view, Ramp3d player will search it and try to find the best possible match. "Choose best" does not mean that it will not play the file if it does not have one, but it is trying to get the best match. If the movie player thinks it is a good match, it will pause it and launch it. Ramp3d player is a product of 3Djammer, a collective of French authors and users.
