A: By sum of geometric series,  $\sum_{i=1}^n \frac{1}{i} = \ln(n) + \gamma + o(1)$  where  $\gamma$  is the Euler-Mascheroni constant. Substituting  $n$  with  $2n$ , we get:  $\sum_{i=1}^{2n} \frac{1}{i} = \ln(2n) + \gamma + o(1)$

LDS: Create & Design Labels, Add-Ons & More As there is no such thing as a perfect template to follow when designing labels, it can be a challenging task to get all things just right. When designing the custom made labels, it is important to consider a few things. For instance, the choice of color, fonts, size and type of the label is the first thing to think about. Next to that, you need to know what kind of information you will be carrying on the label, such as logo, text, address or phone number. And last but not least, you need to pay attention to the printing method and the resulting label size. Label Design Studio contains a wide variety of label templates with different designs, colors, fonts, information types and printing methods. Additionally, it is easy to design and edit existing templates. Label Design Studio will make the whole process a lot easier and less frustrating for you. What makes Label Design Studio special? Label Design Studio has a huge template library that contains hundreds of different designs to choose from. But you can also design and create your own templates. You can have total control over how the labels will look on your packaging. This means that you can choose the exact kind of information that you want to display. You can decide whether it is text, pictures, logos or other graphic elements. With an easy to use design tool, you will be able to generate the labels in a matter of minutes. You can also save them directly to the disk, print or export them. There is no need to print labels one by one. Label Design Studio can create labels with several thousand sheets at the same time. Label Design Studio helps you create professional looking labels. Additionally, it helps you create labels with attractive graphical effects like shadows, reflections, gradient or other animations. You can even create and apply multiple background images at once. All of these features will make it much easier for you to create and print labels. You can also design from scratch or copy one of the many templates included. You will not need to worry about selecting an appropriate font and color. Label Design Studio has a wide range of fonts and colors to choose from. And that's not all Label Design Studio includes. You can also design your own add-ons for labels.
