Introduction Starting Photoshop The steps to start a new image in Photoshop are as follows: 1. Click the New Document icon to bring up the New Document dialog. 2. Enter a name for your new document (Figure 1). Figure 1. The New Document dialog. 3. From the Destination menu, select the folder or location where you wish to save this file. If you are using Photoshop in a network environment, you can also select Share; most users will want to choose the "Save" option. 4. In the File Name: field, enter a descriptive file name (Figure 2). Make sure you have a.psd extension. If you are using Photoshop in a network environment, you may want to consider using the Friendly Name field to enter a different file name. Figure 2. Adding and Moving Elements Layers are the building blocks of Photoshop's image creation and editing process. Layers are a powerful concept and are discussed in much greater detail in other sections of this guide. For now, it's important to know how they can be used to create and modify an image. To add an element to a Photoshop image, select the layer you wish to add and press the Figure 4. Add to a layer. Add to the Layers tab from the View menu. Adding a new layer will bring up the Layers dialog. This dialog allows the user to: Figure 5. The Layers dialog. 1. Enter a name for the layer. It should be descriptive, something that will make it easy for you to identify the layer (Figure 6). Figure 6. Layer name. 2. Click the plus sign to add a new layer (Figure 7). Figure 7. The features of Photoshop Elements are divided into three categories: Basic (for beginners), Advanced (for intermediate and pro) and Expert (for professional). Photoshop Elements 11 is the latest release of the program. We are going to take a close look at the following 15 tools in Adobe Photoshop Elements 11. # 1 Organizer Before you begin to edit your images, you need to organize them first. This tool is included in the Organizer module. It lets you organize your images and move them easily between folders. # 2 Levels Many photographers tend to overexpose, underexpose and over- or underexpose images in order to obtain a certain color or exposure. To quickly do that, you can use the Levels panel. The Levels panel provides several tools for adjusting the exposure and contrast of your image. When you click on the panel, you need to select a tool and adjust its settings. You can edit the settings of the tool by using the sliders. The middle slider shows the luminance range between light and dark. You can also adjust the black and white point or white balance. The big yellow box shows the selected point. You can delete the point or select a new one. # 3 Channels The Channels panel helps you organize your image files by applying artistic effects. You can also combine them. In this way, you can mix three or more pieces of your image. # 4 Burn The Burn tool helps you burn or darken the layers of your image. You can modify the opacity of the layer. You can also use layers to modify each part of the image and to fix areas that might have low contrast. To use the Burn tool, hold Ctrl or Shift while selecting the tool. # 5 Levels As mentioned above, the Levels panel is the best way to adjust exposure and contrast in your image. You can also blur the image or sharpen the image. # 6 Gradation You can use the Gradation tool to add highlights, shadows, or tones in an image. You can use this tool to add a soft gradient to a photo or you can add the appearance of modern art. This tool is used in the Gradation menu. #7 Adjust Color The Adjust Color tool is designed to complement the creative abilities of your eye. It has four tools to 05a79cecff

What's New in the?

Despite his decade in the public eye, Kanye West is not immune to the fame game. Two years ago, West ran into a paparazzi on a busy street in Milan, Italy, and started to walk away. An unknown paparazzo allegedly followed him, got in his face and started shouting, "Welcome to the world of fame!" The flashbulbs went off. In the video below, the man who confronted West informs the superstar that he is famous and that if he doesn't handle fame "properly" he will face the consequences. To this point, the video is not edited in a way that makes it appear that this man is someone who has consistently harassed people with cameras—or even pointed them at West. The man is just a passerby with an opinion, and West gets defensive and jumps to end the interaction. The short video, which has circulated on social media for months, was shot by Britain's Kanya King and Craig McDean, two professional photographers who recently released a book about their experiences of working with celebrities. The incident was part of a reported talk between West and the man, and the video was posted by a user on Reddit. A translation of the exchange can be seen below: West: This is my second day in Milan. I have not seen you. This is my second day in the city, and I have not seen you. Paparazzo: Yes, you're famous and welcome to the world of fame, but you're not famous. Paparazzo: But you're not famous. West: But you're not famous. West: But you're not famous. Paparazzo: But you're not famous. West: But you're not famous. Paparazzo: But you're not famous. West: But you're not famous. Paparazzo: But you're not famous. West: But you're not famous.
