I actually need to carry a small portable computer with me while I am away from home. I could work online on a computer at home, download the QBO2QIF converter to a thumb drive, and take it with me to use my laptop at the client. I can also use the QBO2QIF converter to save a backup of my QBO file and then later on when I get home I can download the QBO2QIF converter to a thumb drive and copy the backup QBO file to my computer and then set this as the 'active' file (the new QIF file would be 'inactive' until I downloaded and saved it to the QBO2QIF converter). I can then use this backup QBO file as my 'active' file. It is a really easy process and very quick. I do hope it continues to function as it does today, great value, top quality, and I am very happy to have selected this software.
