When I call this function, the UI doesn't update until I hit the home button and then back, instead of refreshing on the fly. I have tried "recreate" and restarting the activity, no success. Any ideas? A: According to the documentation, A FragmentManager is not considered the "active" FragmentManager until a FragmentTransaction has been committed by calling FragmentTransaction.commit(). Did you commit the transaction? Q: how to read Xml data using two class in c# i have two class we call class A{ public string name{ get;set; } }

} class B { public string Name { get; set; } } and i have Xml file like this now i want data from this Xml file like this string[] name = new string[3]; name[0] = "a"; name[1] = "b"; name[2] = "c"; how can i use the xml file data using class A and class B?? A: public class Student { public A_A { get; set; } public B_B { get; set; } } class A { public string name { get; set; } } class B { public string Name { get; set; } } then here XmlTextReader reader = new XmlTextReader(@"c:\test.xml"); Student student = new Student(); while (reader.Read()) { if (reader.Node

Back to Free Download PageCarol Sipper said her car had been stolen five times in two years. At 52, Sipper found herself in a bind: She had no idea how she was going to keep up with the soaring gas prices. But after a few months of research, the California artist and author finally settled on a solution: A solar-powered motorcycle, which she purchased with a $30,000 loan. "My friends told me I was going to go broke, but I was actually having fun doing it," said Sipper, who lives in Aliso Viejo. The motorcycle, which she calls "Sipperbike," debuted at the San Diego County Fair in September and will be featured at the Orange County Fair. Sipper describes her bike as an "eco-friendly way to commute" because it uses solar energy and does not require fossil fuels. Unlike most motorcycles, which can cost tens of thousands of dollars, Sipperbike is a $30,000 investment. "I like that little side door — it just allows you to slip in and out," said Sipper, a visual artist who creates interactive art pieces that include puppets, costumes and body painting. With a top speed of 25 mph and
